Greetings from Lancaster County!

Come out and meet our fellow craftsmen friends! This cooperative partnership came together to help our customers find other locally handcrafted items such as wholesale furniture, gifts, framed art, candles, and toys. As friends, we frequently recommend each other because our customer service and business philosophies are similar, and we believe in each other's products. We look forward to meeting you!

What is this tour?

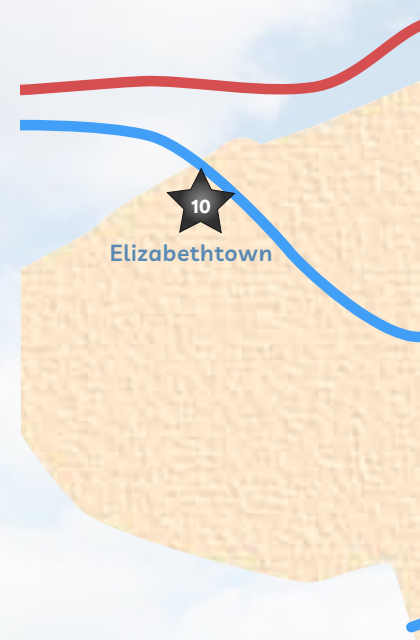

- For two days in late August, you can visit our shops and get to know our friends & their products.
- Enjoy food & drinks at each location.
- Look for special offers at some shops.
- Collect up to $190 in gas cards.
A $10 card is available at each location you visit (see each member's page in this booklet for purchase requirement.)

Must provide proof of business ownership (business card or tax ID#).*

In 1999, Sam Stoltzfus started a full-time business in a horse barn making nothing but flower planters. As the years passed, he added hundreds more products, dedicating himself to a labor of love: creating a thriving family enterprise founded on hard work, honesty, and honoring the Lord. Specializing in finishes from milk paint techniques to crackle surfaces with durable catalyzed lacquer glaze, his distressed and antique finishes make your new piece of furniture feel like it's been in your family for years.

Combining his carpentry skills with an artful eye, JanMichael began casually crafting pieces that incorporated all kinds of signs in 2006. JanMichaels Crafts became "real" by 2008 when he began crafting full-time and shortly after, Holly traded her nursing career for a full-time position in the business. In 2018, to give customers more variety, they started importing a curated collection of more modern products. In 2022, the new JanMichaels Market came to life, combining their own handmade home décor and imports all in one huge, wholesale cash-n-carry warehouse.
